Riggs and McFarland, two of Boise's baseball players, have caught on for the rest of the season. Both have signed with Peorla and left for that p'ace yesterday. The Salt Lake team was the first minor league team Riggs ever played on, but he convinced many that he had the stuff in him to make a ball player. With a little more experience in the game he will probably be a good man in the outfield.

Pat Powers, president of the Eastern Baseball league, and a well-known promoter of cycling races, including the airmual New York six-day race, has leased Madison Square Garden for the summer and will construct a track inside of the garden similar to the one in this city and that in Ogden, and give races two nights a week. Powers has also made arrangements with the owners of the Valisburg track for two meets a week, alternating with those in the garden. and St. Paul automobile touring carnival is on. The cars started on their long trip at a few minutes after 9 o'clock today down Michigan avenue for what promises to be the greatest tour ever held in America. The procession was an imposing one. The fifty machines which left the club house this morning, decorated with pennants bearing different mottoes, looked more like a parade than the beginning of a grind of 500 miles across country roads.

H. H. Van Syclin preceded the regular body of tourists in the scout car, to strew the roads with confetti, in order to mark the route for the drivers, most of whom have never been over the roads. The first night's stop will be at Rockford, Ills. There local tourists will entertain the Chicagoans and join in the carnival when, early tomorrow morning, the trip is resumed. The second day's stop will be made at Dubuque.

No efforts will be made at Dubuque.

No efforts will be made to hang up new records for the trip and five days will be taken for the 500 miles. The main body of dust-begrimed autoists is expected to arrive in St. Paul Tuesday morning.
